

Biographical Details: Ms Sarah Lenthall, winner of the Order of Australia Association, Victoria Branch, 2008 history essay project.

Miss Sarah Lenthall is an Arts/Law student currently studying at Monash University. She has always loved reading and writing and is completing majors in English and Indonesian language as part of her university course. An experienced traveller, Sarah has visited China, India, Indonesia and Singapore.

The history essay prize includes guided tours in 2009 of the Gallipoli and Western Front battlefields. After the tours Sarah will spend five weeks in Florence, Italy, studying international human rights law. At the completion of her degree she hopes to pursue a career in international law and human rights.